9. Objectives

The objectives of this workshop are to:

   a. Enable participants to acquire the knowledge to measure and analyze productivity in the banking sector;

   b. Understand the linkages between productivity and performance measurement indicators in banking;

   c. Review the strategic use of performance measures and how to establish indicators, specific targets, and goals for improving overall performance in banking-sector; and

   d. To share best practices of productivity improvement of banking sector.

10. Background

Since 1979, a number of projects have been organized by the APO to study the techniques and methods of productivity measurement and analysis in member countries. The APO has organized several projects on productivity measurement at different levels, such as sectoral, subsectoral, or enterprise levels. The projects were well received by participants and generated a lot of interest in their practical application in member countries. Both partial productivity and total productivity are accepted as common measures of productivity at enterprise as well as at sectoral level. The service sectors in APO member countries have been expanding rapidly and now represent a significant segment of their economies in terms of contribution to GDP and employment. A better understanding of the various models, tools, and techniques of productivity measurement in the service sector can provide opportunities to evaluate its performance and take the necessary actions to raise its productivity.

The banking sector plays a crucial role in the economic growth of a country. The importance of this sector's contribution is especially significant in APO member countries. A well-functioning banking sector facilitates the efficient intermediation of financial resources. The more efficient a financial system is in resource generation and in its allocations, the greater its contribution to economic growth. An efficient system of financial intermediation also contributes to the risk mitigation process in the economy. For example, enhanced efficiency in banking can result in greater and more appropriate innovations and improved profitability as well as greater safety and soundness when the improvement in productivity is channeled toward strengthening capital buffers that absorb risk. Moreover, efficiency or productivity measures could act as leading indicators for evolving strengths or weaknesses of the banking system and enable preemptive steps by regulators when necessary. Therefore, investigation and measurement of efficiency and productivity in the banking sector have always been areas of interest for APO member economies. The APO assessment of efficiency and productivity in banking would therefore be useful.

11. Scope and Methodology

Scope

a. Identification and classification of data requirements for relevant productivity statistics and measures in banking;

b. Productivity, competitiveness, profitability, return on assets, etc.;

c. Identification of the strengths/weaknesses of the banking sector;

d. Measures to enhance productivity and competitiveness in banking; and

e. Linkages between productivity measurement and performance measurement.

Methodology

Lectures, country presentations, site visits, group discussions, and case studies.

13. Financial Arrangements

To be borne by participants or participating countries

a. Participants’ insurance premiums: All participants should be fully insured against accident and illness (including hospitalization and death) for a principal sum equivalent to US$10,000.00 for the entire duration of the project and travel, and must submit to the APO Secretariat a copy of the comprehensive travel insurance certificate before participation. Such insurance should be valid in the host country. This insurance requirement is in addition to existing government insurance coverage in some member countries. If any participant is unable to insure himself/herself as stipulated above, he/she should secure this insurance in the host country at the commencement of the project and pay the premium himself/herself, if necessary, from the per diem allowance provided. Neither the APO nor the implementing organizations will be responsible for any eventuality arising from accident or illness.

b. All expenses related to visa fees and airport taxes.

c. Any expenses incurred by participants for stopovers on the way to and from the project venue as well as for extra stay at the project venue before and/or after the official project period because of early arrival or late departure, for example, due to either limited available flights or any other reason.
To be borne by the host country

Staff costs related to coordination and management of the workshop

To be borne by the APO

a. All assignment costs of overseas resource persons.

b. Round-trip economy-class international airfare by the most direct route between the international airport nearest to the participants' place of work and Mumbai, India. As far as practicable, all participants should purchase discount tickets. Please note that the arrangements for the purchase of air tickets should follow the "Guide on Purchases of Air Tickets for APO Participants," which will be sent to the selected participants. It is also available on the APO website and from APO Liaison Officers in member countries.

c. All local implementation costs, per diem allowances and hotel accommodation for up to 18 overseas participants for up to six days at the rate to be specified later.

14. Actions by Member Countries

a. Each participating country is requested to nominate three or more candidates in the order of preference. Please ensure that candidates nominated meet the qualifications specified under section 12 above.

b. No form of self-nomination will be accepted. All nominations must be endorsed and submitted by an APO Director, Alternative Director, Liaison Officer, or their designated officer.

c. Please note that nomination of a candidate does not necessarily guarantee that he/she will be selected. Selection is at the discretion of the APO Secretariat. A basic criterion for selection is the homogeneity of the participants in terms of qualifications and work experience. Nonselection therefore does not mean that the candidates concerned are not competent enough. Sometimes candidates are not selected because they are overqualified for a project.

d. Each nomination should be accompanied by the necessary documents. A nomination lacking any of these documents may not be considered: two copies of the candidate's biodata on the APO biodata form together with a passport-sized photograph. The biodata form can be downloaded from the APO website (www.apo-tokyo.org). We encourage submitting the biodata form to the APO Secretariat in electronic form as an attachment to a cover e-mail message from the APO Director, Alternate Director, or Liaison Officer. The nomination documents should be sent to the Industry Department, APO Secretariat (e-mail: ind@apo-tokyo.org, fax: 81-3-5840-5324).

e. The APO Medical and Insurance Declaration/Certification Form. Every candidate must complete and submit a copy of the APO Medical and Insurance Declaration/Certification Form with his/her biodata at the time of nomination. Please note that self-declaration is sufficient for candidates without any of health conditions or illnesses listed on the reverse side of the medical form. However, for all others, medical certification by a licensed physician on the reverse side of the medical form is required.

f. Necessary documents are to be submitted electronically. In that case, there is no need to send a hard copy by postal mail. However, if the documents are submitted by fax, member countries are requested to mail the originals of the documents to the APO Secretariat as well. If a digital photograph of a nominee is not attached to the electronic biodata form, a hard-copy photograph should be sent to the APO Secretariat by postal mail. Please give the candidate’s name and the project code on the reverse side of the photograph.

g. Member countries are requested to adhere to the nomination deadline given on page 1. The APO Secretariat may not consider late nominations as they have in the past resulted in considerable difficulties to the implementing organization in its preparatory work for the project.

h. For member countries where nominations are required to be approved by higher government authorities and require a longer time, the APO Liaison Officers/NPOs are urged to send the names of nominees on or before the deadline, indicating that government approval will follow.

i. If a selected participant becomes unable to attend, he/she should inform the APO Liaison Officer/NPO in his/her country immediately and give the reason for withdrawal. The NPO concerned is requested to transmit that information to the APO Secretariat and the host country promptly.

j. NPOs are requested to inform the selected participants that they are not to bring family members or to engage in any private business activities during the entire duration of the project.

k. Each selected participant should be instructed to arrive at the venue one day before the start of the official project. Also, he/she is expected to return home upon completion of the official project because he/she is visiting the host country for the specific purpose of attending this APO workshop.

l. NPOs should inform participants that they must attend all five days of the project to qualify for the certificate of attendance.

15. Actions by the APO Secretariat

   a. Under normal circumstances, candidates who are selected will be informed of their acceptance at least four weeks prior to the start of the project.

   b. If some candidates fail to qualify or be unable to participate after selection, or if some member countries fail to nominate any candidate, their slots may be filled by alternates from the same or another member country on a merit basis.

16. Project Preparation

The participants are required to prepare a paper prior to departure for the project venue. In preparing the paper, they are expected to follow the “Guidelines for the Preparation of Country Papers” to be provided later.

17. Postproject Actions

All participants are required to prepare action plans and share the plans with their NPOs. The APO will also request participants to submit progress reports six months after completion of the workshop.

18. Evaluation of Participants

If the conduct/attendance/performance of a participant is not satisfactory, these will be reported to the APO director concerned.
19. Guide for Participants

Other conditions for participation are given in the APO Guide for Participants, which is available from APO Liaison Officers/NPOs in member countries and on the APO website (www.apo-tokyo.org).
