

New publications

Enhancing Public-sector Excellence

This guidebook is meant for NPOs aiming to introduce a business excellence (BE) model or awards for the public sector or to enhance their existing schemes. The importance of BE models is introduced through a series of questions and answers, followed by information on promoting and adopting BE and setting up an award process. The final of seven chapters explores how NPOs undertake BE initiatives in the all-important public sector.

ISBN: 978-92-833-2468-3

Go to the APO website at www.apo-tokyo.org/publications/ebooks to access this book online.

Inspiring Entrepreneurship

The research resulting in this report was based on the Global Entrepreneurship Monitor model showing the relationship between entrepreneurship and development. A clear distinction is made between start-up activities and entrepreneurship, since the latter is the mindset that makes the former possible. The book examines in detail the critical role of entrepreneurship in seven APO member economies at different stages of development to show how it can be encouraged to support more innovation.

Go to the APO website at www.apo-tokyo.org/publications/papers to access this book online.